

VIRTUAL EXPLORING ENERGY PROGRAM

IPAA/PESA ENERGY EDUCATION CENTER

For Junior
and Senior
High School
Students

Energy Industry Tours and Video Presentations FOR IPAA EMERGING LEADERS IN ENERGY

If you are a junior or senior in high school and looking to join a professional organization in energy, the Independent Petroleum Association of America is pleased to offer you the opportunity to be part of this national organization free of charge. This is a great organization that will help you gain updated energy industry knowledge and a group that you can continue to be part of post high school.

WHO WE ARE ▶ The Independent Petroleum Association of America (IPAA) Emerging Leaders in Energy

- This program aims to connect young professionals with company executives, financial experts, and key decision makers in the U.S. oil and natural gas industry. Since 2012, the program has grown to more than 1,600 members nationwide.
- IPAA's Emerging Leaders receive several e-newsletters with valuable updates about the policy issues, hurdles and opportunities facing America's oil and natural gas industry. Being tuned into the industry is great way to meet the right people and be a valued member of your school.
- This program is a great résumé-builder and a great addition to your post high school job applications or college applications.

Careers that interest students:

engineering
landman
geologist
supply chain management
business
business development
chemist
rig worker environmental and regulatory specialist
leadership
cybersecurity
data analytics
IT specialist
technician roles

HOW TO JOIN ▶ IPAA Emerging Leaders in Energy

1. Send an email to Sarah Hewitt at shewitt@ipaa.org AND leaders@ipaa.org titled: Exploring Energy Program – New Emerging Leader and include the following information: name, school, grade level, and school district (if applicable), email address, and birth year.
2. Once completed: Sarah Hewitt will send you the links to access the video repository.

