SPEAKER

Andrew Wheeler

Administrator of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

On February 28, 2019, the U.S. Senate confirmed Andrew Wheeler as the fifteenth Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency. Mr. Wheeler had previously been confirmed by the U.S. Senate as the EPA Deputy Administrator on April 12, 2018.

Mr. Wheeler has dedicated his career to advancing sound environmental policies. He began his career during the George H.W. Bush Administration as a Special Assistant in EPA's Pollution Prevention and Toxics office. He was a Principal and the team leader of the Energy and Environment Practice Group at FaegreBD Consulting. He also served as the Co-chair of the Energy and Natural Resources Industry team across the entire firm. Prior to his work with the firm, Mr. Wheeler served for six years as the Majority Staff Director and Chief Counsel, as well as the Minority Staff Director, of the Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works. Before his time at the full Senate EPW Committee, Mr. Wheeler served in a similar capacity for six years for the Subcommittee on Clean Air, Climate Change, Wetlands and Nuclear Safety. Mr. Wheeler is the past Chairman of the National Energy Resource Organization (NERO).

Economic & Policy Trends for Oil & Gas (an Insider's View)

MODERATOR | Fred Lawrence, Vice President of Economics and International Affairs, IPAA

SPEAKER

Kevin Book, Managing Director, ClearView Energy Partners, LLC

Mr. Book will share his views on how Washington interprets the ongoing political debate surrounding oil and natural gas, hydraulic fracturing and the evolving environmental discussion from a U.S. perspective. At a time when the U.S. oil and natural gas production is leading the world rankings, Book will delve into the question of how the politicians' and more importantly, the mainstream voters', view on how the foundation of our energy mix (oil and natural gas) is changing and identifying some of the major political, regulatory and geopolitical challenges ahead for the industry.

Kevin Book heads the research team at ClearView Energy Partners, LLC, an independent firm headquartered in Washington, D.C. that serves institutional investors and corporate strategists. In his analytical capacity, Mr. Book covers economic and policy trends in oil, natural gas, coal and refined products. Outside the office, he appears frequently in print and broadcast media, participates in government and private-sector policy forums and meets with top Washington decision-makers. He has also testified before several House and Senate Committees. Mr. Book is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and the National Petroleum Council.

UNCLE SAM ABOUT TO TACKLE THEM

"Whisper! Speak easy! The police are watching!"

No man knows who invented the term
"speak easy," now famous as the generic name of such places as circulate the flowing bowl among presumably trustworthy persons, unrestrained by any consideration save a fear that the limbs of the law may be lingering somewhere in the vicinity and be attracted by indiscreetly boisterous conversations to the fact that something illicit is in progress.

What is a "speak easy?"

JOE ROUGHNECK'S JUICE JOINT RECEPTION & DINNER

You are invited to a secret event with other ombibulous and teetotaler guests from the oil and gas industry who will gather to celebrate 90 years of independents and the events that led to the creation of IPAA. A roaring good time is guaranteed to be had by all with the help of custom made concoctions like Basintub Gin and Hydraulic Hooch. There has been a lot of speculation that John D. Rockefeller bankrolled prohibition because Henry Ford was motivated to create an automobile that ran on ethanol. These theories have since been debunked, but prohibition's direct cause to the rise of the Speakeasy in the 1920s stands true.
